OUR STRONG SHOES FOR STRONG BOYS

STRONG shoes that will last, look well, and will not show marks of hard usage that you know shoes are bound to get on strong boys, for they will romp and play—these are the shoes on which we specialize. They will enjoy their recreation all the more if their shoes fit them properly, and our shoes are strong so that no harm can be done. That's one reason our store should get your trade in boy's shoes.

The School Commissionership

(Advertisement.)

In order that the people of the county may know the entire law pertaining to the qualifications of an applicant for the place of county school superintendent, I herewith submit an exact copy of the very latest act, which was passed and approved on August 21st, 1911. No other legislation has since been enacted. The special bill having been approved on August 19th, 1911, which was three days before the passage of the general bill which follows:

"Sec. 14. Before any person shall be qualified or eligible to the office of county superintendent of schools, he shall have had at least three years practical experience in teaching, one year of which shall have been in the schools of Georgia, hold a first grade license, or in lieu thereof shall have a diploma from a reputable college or normal school, or shall have had five years actual experience in supervision of schools, or stand an approved examination before the state board of as to his qualifications and be a resident of the county in which he offers for election, be a person of good moral character, never convicted of any crime involving moral turpitude. The county superintendent shall perform all the clerical duties which are now required of the county school commissioner."

This is the entire law. Do you see anything in this that gives a county board the authority to declare anyone ineligible? Does this law say that when a person makes a request for election, the board of education to assemble and hear a complaint of a person who has reasons to believe he has not been dealt fairly with in the matter of grading his papers? Does this law say he is ineligible if he chooses to run independently of the actions of a board that failed to give a man a hearing to ascertain if his contentions were justifiable? Mr. Franklin in the presence of two witnesses promised to reassemble the board to hear my complaint. This he refused to do. Now he charges me with this claiming that this disqualifies me for the place of county superintendent. Do you as citizens of the county see anything immoral in this?

At the time the board acted last, on Nov. the 13th, 1911, the commissions of the new members, Mr. Geo. E. Wilson and Mr. John Davis, were in Judge Moore's office. These gentlemen should have acted, as they are the lawful members. Mr. Franklin is only a private citizen, though he was acting in order to seek personal revenge. Will the county board show the people of the county the law that gave them the power? It has been told to me that they were acting under instructions of the state board. Will they show the people the law that is given the state's board to authorize them to declare anyone ineligible? If for one will be glad to see it.

Will they show where any one of the other applicants made any better show as to qualifications than I made? We all held the same grade license. No examination was given. We were all eligible under the new law. They passed the balance up as citizens. They attempted to disfranchise me. Why? I wonder why. If men should happen to have a disliking for a man, should they force him to sink into oblivion?

Gentlemen, you showed to the world that you disapproved of being forced to vote for a man who was afraid to meet opposition, and had well laid plans to do away

TUBERCULOSIS GERMS.

The Armor That Repels Them Is Woven of Fresh Air.

Although there are many things that we do not know about consumption, or tuberculosis, there are some that we do and a few that we are in the act of learning.

We do not know, for example, what makes for susceptibility and what for immunity. Strong and robust persons are sometimes stricken down with it; invalids and convalescents from other diseases are no more susceptible to it than are other people, and it is possible to live for an entire lifetime in the condition known as "rundown" or "weak" without becoming tuberculous.

People still speak of consumption as "inherited," but it is not inherited. A child may be born with a certain tendency to it, but if proper measures are taken early enough and kept up steadily and long enough this tendency can be overcome. A child whose parents before him and their parents before them, perhaps for generations back, have been poor breathers will probably inherit a small, meager chest and will therefore be the natural victim of the consumption germs as soon as it reaches him. That child will have to be taught to breathe.

The tendency to pigeon breast can be overcome and a narrow chest developed to normal capacity, but to do this the child must be kept constantly in good air and taught how to develop and use the lungs. A pigeon breasted child who is being brought up on the coddling process—oversheltered, overfed and over-clothed—is in as much danger as if he lived under the famous over-hanging from a hair.

Another long lived fallacy, which is a great pet with many people, is that other diseases "run into" consumption. A man comes down with an attack of typhoid fever or pneumonia. After the attack is over his convalescence is slow and doubtful.

Finally unmistakable signs of tuberculosis appear, and he says, "I had pneumonia, and it ran into consumption." But he had been examined before the pneumonia started he would have been found to be already consumptive. In fact, it would really be more sensible to say that his consumption "ran into pneumonia."

It must be remembered that consumption may be present a long time before the germs begin to appear in the expectation. In spite of hygienic precautions, we must all come in contact with the germs of consumption many times in a lifetime. These germs we shall either breathe in or swallow. We cannot escape them. But there is an armor that is germ proof. Oxygen—fresh air—YOUTH'S Companion.

One rarely sees a dirty Bank of England note. That is because the bank never reissues a banknote. Even if one went into the bank and demanded a five pound note in exchange for five sovereigns and then crossed to another counter and demanded the same five pound note, the bank would not give it. It would be destroyed. The system is expensive, but by its means the bank avoids many of the risks of forgery. Wall Colors and Light. In painting or repainting the walls of a room the question often arises what color reflects the most and what the least light. Recent experiments in Germany gave the following results: Dark blue reflects 64 per cent of the light falling upon it; dark green, about 10 per cent; pale red, a little more than 16 per cent; dark yellow, 20 per cent; pale blue, 30 per cent; pale yellow, 40 per cent; pale green, 46 per cent; pale orange, nearly 55 per cent; pale white, 70 per cent. Glossiness and varnish increase the amount of light reflected.—Harper's Weekly.

The Woman and Her Face. Once upon a time a woman had a quarrel with her features because they made ugly faces at her when she looked in the glass. She scolded and scolded, but it all did no good. Finally she sat in front of her mirror and with rouge, powder and black pencil went deliberately to work to show her face how wrong it was and succeeded.

Gladstone's Wisdom. No man realized more keenly than Mr. Gladstone the value of discretion in a cabinet minister. It is said that shortly after his marriage Gladstone, who was already in the confidence of the ministry, said to his wife: "Shall I tell you nothing and you can say nothing? Or shall I tell you everything and you say nothing?" Mrs. Gladstone decided for the latter alternative. And she kept her word.

THIS WORLD OF OURS.

Its Square Miles, Its Population and Its Births and Deaths.

Sometimes this old world seems a rather large place, and occasionally one gets the idea that there are a great many people; but, after all, there are only 36,000,000 square miles of land on which we may build houses and grow crops and walk about, and there are only fifteen hundred million persons to do these things. The earth's population were evenly apportioned to the various continents and islands there would be twenty-seven persons on each square mile; but, as it is, there are 101.2 persons to each square mile in Europe, 49.1 persons on a like area in Asia, 14.3 in North America and only 1.5 in Australasia. The polar regions are the really lonely lands, however, for there the population is only six hundredths of a person to the square mile. The total population of the earth at the time of the census of September 1st, 1906, was not over 1,600,000,000, and the total population of Europe did not exceed 500,000,000 before the fifteenth century.

The greatest depth of the Pacific ocean is supposed to be nearly six miles and the Atlantic four and one-half miles. The peoples of the world, after much contention, have divided themselves into some fifty principal political divisions.

The average duration of a human life is about thirty-three years. One-quarter of the people on the earth die before reaching the age of six, one-half before sixteen, and only one person out of each hundred born lives to be sixty-five. It is calculated that every minute there are sixty-seven deaths, 96,000 a day, or 35,000,000 a year. Births take place at the rate of seventy a minute, 100,000 a day, or 36,000,000 each year.—Chicago Record-Herald.

WHITE MAN HANGED FOR MURDER OF NEGROES

SLEW WOMAN AND HER DAUGHTER FOR FORTY DOLLARS

Rufus Butler is a respectable colored man who has been employed at Gupion's blacksmith shop for the past three or four years. He was hanged on Monday evening in August by the announcement of the murder of his sister and her daughter at Kingsland.

This much by way of introductory for the following news item: Brunswick, Ga., Nov. 26.—A. J. O'Berry, convicted on October 18 of the murder of Mary Randolph and her 13-year-old daughter, near Kingsland on the night of Aug. 15, and sentenced to be hanged on Nov. 27, was carried yesterday afternoon to St. Marys to be executed tomorrow.

The crime for which he will pay the penalty was one of the most brutal in the annals of Camden county. There was a great deal of feeling against the man at the time the crime was committed, and there was talk of lynching, but the law was allowed to take its course and he will pay the price on the date originally set by the court.

The old negro woman and her daughter, belonging to one of the best negro families in the county, lived near Kingsland, and on the day they were murdered were there to transact some business. While in Proctor's store they drew about $10 and O'Berry saw the money turned over to them and watched them depart for home. He followed them that afternoon, lying in the woods nearby until dark when he walked into the house and slew both of them. He was captured the next morning and at the time had the money in his mouth.

O'Berry never seemed to realize the enormity of his crime. He was brought here for safe-keeping the early part of September, and on reaching here gave a newspaper man the story of the crime. He told the story in a very indifferent manner and one could scarcely believe he was talking of the taking of two human lives. He said he was going to lead guilty and ask the mercy of the court, but he didn't know what the judge would do with him.

At St. Marys, where he was tried, three attorneys were employed to make a fight for his life, but he was sentenced to be hung.

Coughing at Night means loss of sleep which is bad for everyone. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound stops the cough at once, relieves the tickling and dryness of the throat and soothes the inflamed membranes. Prevents a cold developing into bronchitis or pneumonia. IS HELD ON CHARGE OF CHEATING AND SWINDLING

WILSON HAS MAN ARRESTED WHO SOLD HIM SHARES OF STOCK

Upon a warrant charging cheating and swindling, sworn out by J. A. Wilson, D. S. Simpson, jr., was arrested Monday evening by Sheriff Donaldson, and is held in jail awaiting an adjustment of his troubles.

Representing the Southern Investment Co., whose headquarters are at Adel, Simpson was here in July and sold Mr. Wilson stock in the company to the amount of $1,000. Wilson paid $50 in cash and gave his note for $950, due Nov. 1, 1912. Simpson a few days later sold the notes to the Simmons Co., receiving checks made payable to the Southern Development Co. Having a power of attorney from the company, he cashed one of the checks in Statesboro and the other at McRae.

Mr. Wilson did not receive his certificate of stock as expected and took the matter up with the Adel office. The stock has never yet been issued, and the matter has since been hanging fire. Meantime Wilson swore out a warrant for Simpson's arrest. Saturday night Simpson came to town and Monday drove out to see Wilson, who promptly notified the sheriff of his presence and requested his arrest. Just how the matter will terminate is of course uncertain, but it is probable that an adjustment will be reached in a few days.

Backache, Headache, Nervousness and Rheumatism, both in men and women mean kidney trouble. Do not allow it to progress beyond the reach of medicine but stop it promptly with Foley's Kidney Pills. They regulate the action of the urinary organs. Tonic in action, quick in results. Sold by Lively's Drug Store.

Union Thanksgiving Services Tomorrow

The churches of Statesboro will unite in a union Thanksgiving service at the Methodist church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The program will consist of addresses appropriate to the occasion by a number of the prominent lay members of the various congregations, besides some beautiful musical selections. The services will be presided over by Mayor McDougald.

Rev. Dennis, pastor of the Methodist church, is out of the city in attendance upon the annual conference at Bainbridge, and in his absence the program will be arranged by Rev. L. A. McLaurin of the Presbyterian church and Rev. J. F. Eden, of the Baptist church.

PARKER AND BERNER TO SPEAK SATURDAY

WILL ADDRESS VOTERS IN BEHALF OF POPE BROWN

Judge T. A. Parker and Hon. R. L. Berner will speak in the court house here next Saturday morning in behalf of the candidacy of Hon. Pope Brown for governor.

This announcement will be a delight to the friends of Mr. Brown especially, and to the public generally. These gentlemen are among the best known speakers in the state. Both are strong in defense of any man or measure they conceive to be right, and they are very much in earnest in the cause which they are coming there to represent.

Judge Parker holds a high place in the esteem of Bulloch county citizens and his coming will certainly attract his admirers. Col. Berner has previously been heard here on several occasions; first in behalf of his own candidacy for governor twelve years ago, when he carried the county by an overwhelming vote, and later when he came in behalf of Hoke Smith's candidacy. His style of speech is very fascinating, and it will be a pleasure to all who hear him, whether they agree with him or not.

FAST TIME MADE IN THE BIG PRIZE RACES

DRIVER MAKES RECORD OF 74.04 MILES AN HOUR

Records were broken in reckless riding in the Savannah automobile contests Monday when three races were run.

The first race was the Tiedeman Trophy, 171.40 miles, and was won by Witt in an E. M. F., time 176 minutes—an average speed of 58.44 miles an hour.

The second race was for the Savannah Challenge Trophy, 222.82 miles; was won by Hughes in a Mercer, in 195.37 minutes—an average speed of 68.35 miles an hour.

The final and important contest was for the Vanderbilt Trophy, 291.38 miles; and was won by Mulford in a Lozier car in 236 minutes—an average speed of 74.07 an hour. This time is three miles an hour faster than the time of the same race last year.

No accidents occurred on the race course throughout the day to interfere in any way with the contests.

A Few Words About Judge Russell's Platform.

Mr. Editor: I have carefully noted Mr. Russell's platform and his letter begging people to assist him in his race for governor. I think his platform is fairly good, with the exception of that part relative to the prohibition question.

I am surprised to know a man of his standing would favor this law being repealed. It is conceded by all good people that the liquor traffic is the worst evil the devil has ever invented. But of late days some men would do almost anything to get into a fat office. There is too much money in office these days.

Mr. Russell says the people should say by their votes whether they want prohibition or not. Well, they said by their votes four years ago that they wanted state prohibition by voting temperance to the legislature and they passed the law as representatives of the people. This is democracy pure and simple. There is a law against murder, against burglary and other crimes, but he doesn't seem to want to leave those laws to be voted on by the people. He seems to be more concerned about the whiskey business than anything else. But he says the prohibition law is a failure. It is true the law is violated too often, but there is not a law on the statute book that doesn't get violated; but that doesn't prove that the good Lord did wrong in making his laws. When the prohibition law was passed the whiskey crowd howled and said the state was ruined, but the state has prospered more the past four years than for a whole decade before. Yes, such a wave of prosperity Georgia never knew before.

If we had local option everybody knows the big cities would vote wet and they would supply the dry counties. Let us go forward and not backward.

But the whiskey crowd says there is more liquor used in Georgia now than there was before the law was passed. Well, if that be true, why do they want the prohibition law repealed? What inconsistency! B. W. DARSEY.

SUBSCRIPTION, $1.00 PER YEAR.

Entered as second class matter March 23, 1905, at the postoffice at Statesboro, Ga., under the Act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 29, 1911.

If you know a man's life you do not need to ask whether or not he believes in a God.

A robber swindled an English jeweler out of $5,000 by posing as an American magnate. He certainly acted the part.

Don't brag of success. It is at best but an uncertainty—and those who are crowing over today may be cackling over your carcass tomorrow.

Woman should not appear to be what she really is. She is not nearly so pleasing to the eye of a man in closely-fitting skirts as she is in the fuller kind.

Size is pretty much a matter of perspective. A great man is never overly large to his intimates. It is said of Mrs. Hay that at a Washington reception she was overheard to remark to her husband, "Now, John, don't be a fool."

A New York professor says many women spend 60 per cent of their time trying to make themselves attractive. He might have added that the other 40 per cent they spend in allowing men like the professor to admire them.

"Where will we raise our food when all of the available farming area is taken up and worked to its fullest capacity?" asks the magazine writer. By that time we won't waste food on people with nothing to do but ask foolish questions, so that no uneasiness need exist.

Pope Brown Will Win.

The outlook is very promising that Hon. Pope Brown will be the next governor of Georgia. And the prospect is a pleasing one.

The things for which he stands are for the best interests of Georgia, socially and industrially. By far the overshadowing issue is prohibition. He stands for the present law or a better one. Many have pretended to base their opposition to the law upon the fact that it is not effective; "if they would only enforce it," they plead. Pope Brown may not be able to secure its enforcement, but he favors its improvement.

The liquor traffic is regarded everywhere as a social evil. The high licenses placed upon it are placed with a view to its suppression. Its tendency is for all evil and no good; no defense can be offered for the traffic except that the people want it. So do people want many other things which are against good society, and which the law forbids.

Judge Russell pretends, in his campaign literature distributed through the state, that Georgia is being impoverished by the outflow of revenue into other states for liquor; and that with a return of the traffic to the state, free books will be possible for the school children. It is answer enough to say that free books were not possible before the present law was passed; and it is very improbable that there will be any improvement upon a return to the old law.

The plea for local self-government on the liquor question is a feeble one; there is no more reason for county option on that issue than on the question of burglary, arson, murder, bigamy, adultery, or the thousand and one other things that affect the social conditions of our people. If the traffic is wrong for one county, it is for all; and the good people will stand against its toleration in any.

Pope Brown stands for the continued suppression of the traffic; those people who stand on the same side will support him; those who favor the liquor traffic will oppose him. It is simply a question of which crowd is the biggest. It is pleasant to believe that right will prevail.

About as embarrassing a position as can be imagined for a young man is to be walking down some shady lane with his sweetheart and come face to face with the young lady he was billing and cooing the night before.

Stanley for Commissioner.

That Hal Stanley, of the Dublin Courier-Dispatch will easily be elected to the new office of commissioner of commerce and labor, is the very pleasing prospect. Aside from the fraternal interest which the newspaper men of Georgia feel in his candidacy, is the fact of his thorough competency to fill the position. Without disparagement to his opponent, who is a labor leader and has the backing of the labor organizations of Georgia, it is undeniable that Mr. Stanley is qualified in a much broader sense than he. Not only is he a laboring man, who has experienced all the burdens of toil, but as a journalist of ability he has come in contact with the requirements of commerce and the general development of the state's natural resources in a measure that doubly qualifies him for the position. He will be easily elected and he should be.

Hon. Jos. G. Camp at Metter, Monday, Dec. 4.

The second attraction of the lyceum course will be given Monday night at the school auditorium, by Hon. Jos. G. Camp, of Atlanta, the well known and highly appreciated Georgia orator and humorist lecturer. He comes to us very highly recommended and we ask everybody to come out and get a real good feast of entertaining fun.

HOW WEAK WOMEN
May Be Made Strong at Small Expense and No Risk
There are hundreds of women in this vicinity, weak, thin, run-down, tired out and nervous. Such women need Vinol just as much as did Mrs. Jane Penner, of 2307 Howard street, San Francisco, Cal., who says: "I have used Vinol for some time with particularly gratifying results. I was run down, weak and debilitated, and my appetite was gone. After taking several bottles of Vinol I found my condition greatly improved, and do not hesitate to recommend Vinol to anyone similarly affected."
Vinol is not a secret nostrum, but a delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, which will create an appetite, tone up the digestive organs, make pure blood and create strength. Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union was organized in Statesboro about one year ago, and since that time the membership has grown considerably.

Below are given quotations from some very celebrated Christian people:

"Had alcohol never been discovered, and were it then in my power to portray the effects of such a discovery of any man, without exception, would declare it impossible to conceive of any more diabolical plan for the degradation and destruction of the human race. Our greatest foes are the manufacturers of alcohol. . . . It is inconceivable that any intelligent, rational man can deny the necessity for strong, united action to rid the country of both manufacturer and distributor."—Dr. Howard A. Kelley, of John Hopkins, Baltimore.

"I was Crippled, could hardly walk, and had to crawl down stairs at times on my hands and knees. My doctor told me I had an acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I was in the hospital for weeks, but was scarcely able to walk when I left it. I read about Dr. Miles' Nervine bought a bottle and began to get better from the start, and for the past six months I have had scarcely any pain and am able to walk as well as ever."—J. H. SANDERS, P. O. box 5, Rockaway, N. J. Few medicines are of any benefit for rheumatism, but Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine did for it. One ounce of salicylate of soda added to one bottle of Nervine makes an excellent remedy for rheumatism, which is now known to be a nervous disease and therefore subject to the influence of a medicine that acts through the nerves, as does Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Sufferers from rheumatism seldom fail to find relief in the use of Dr. Miles' Nervine, with salicylate of soda. Sold under a guarantee that assures the return of the price of the medicine if it fails to benefit. At all Drug Stores. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

WHERE WOMAN PROPOSES.

An Odd Welsh Town Where the Sexes Have Changed Places.

Llangwm, in Pembrokeshire, Wales, is a huddled group of blunt stone cottages upon the luxuriant bank of the river Cleddon and within view of the Atlantic. Were it not for its strange customs and the relations of the sexes Llangwm would not merit special attention. The inhabitants are of Flemish origin. In this community more men no longer hold sway as head of the household, nor is he compelled to earn his own living.

This is what occurs to him in Llangwm: If a likely youth and if arrived at the age—not necessarily of discretion—and size that enable him to make himself useful about the house in cooking, washing, cleaning, bedmaking and such other duties as usually are discharged by the weaker sex, he is approached by some maiden who has "laid eyes on him"; a few words are spoken, perhaps kisses interchanged, and the bargain is completed. Such embarrassing duties as "asking ma and pa" and those incidents peculiar to courtship in other localities are quite unnecessary at Llangwm. The marriage ceremony is of the simplest character, and no such thing as a honeymoon is allowed. The youth settles himself down to his life job and is happy so long as he does not become entangled with the heads of the other households. The Llangwm maiden is an expert fisherwoman. She rises early and braves all weathers. She not only catches her fish, but sells it in the neighboring towns. She is usually stronger than the average champion oarsman and can row with almost as much skill.

Of course the wife is the chancellor of the exchequer in this strange community. As she earns the money she naturally feels competent to spend it to the best advantage. Indeed, the husband, known among the fishwives as "my man," is not considered sufficiently elevated to buy his own Sunday clothes. The domestic fisherwoman queen selects such garments as may suit her taste, and from her decision there is no appeal.

In religious matters the Llangwms are extremely strict. Dancing, card playing, novel reading, are absolutely barred. No intoxicating liquor can be obtained in the place, for years ago the inhabitants revolted against the opening of an inn.

In the house conversation is not allowed during meals, and although newspapers are sometimes brought in they are hidden away from Saturday night until Monday morning. The villagers look askance at all strangers picking their way along the narrow street and stigmatize them as foreigners.—Exchange.

The Wise Fox.

The Lion, the Ass and the Fox went hunting together, and it was agreed that whatever was taken should be shared between them. They caught a large fat Stag, which the Lion ordered the Ass to divide. The Ass took a deal of pains to divide the Stag into three pieces, which should be as nearly equal as possible. The Lion, enraged with the fox for what he considered a want of proper respect to his quality, flew upon him and tore him to pieces. He then called on the Fox to divide. The Fox, nibbling off a small portion for himself, left the rest for the Lion's share. The Lion, highly pleased with this mark of respect, asked the Fox where he had learned such politeness and good breeding. "To tell the truth, sire," replied the Fox, "I was taught it by the Ass that lies dead there."—Aesop.

A Resourceful Leader.
It was during a sham battle that a young Georgia sergeant gave a command that will pass his name down to posterity in the unwritten legends of the national guard. His company held an exposed position, and in the ardor and excitement of their first baptism of fire they had disposed of enough cartridges to last a veteran through an all-day battle. Suddenly they found their belts empty and necessarily the din of conflict lessened. It was then that the gallant sergeant, ballies and flushed with battle frenzy, rushed down the line and shouted: "Keep up your fire, boys! Let the enemy know your ammunition is out!"—Saturday Evening Post.

CHARLOTTE CUSHMAN.

Bitter Ending of the One Love Affair of the Famous Actress.

Charlotte Cushman, the actress, was in love but once in her life. She met in Cincinnati, where she was playing, an actor named Clark, with whom she fell in love. Through her efforts Clark was advanced to leading man in the company, and the course of true love ran smoothly.

One night the actress met a strange woman behind the scenes between the acts.

The woman came up to her and addressed her thus:

"You are Charlotte Cushman, the great actress. Haven't you got enough men to admire you without coming between man and wife and robbing me of my husband?"

"Your husband!" cried Miss Cushman, getting excited.

"Yes, and you have taken or you are trying to take him from me," continued the ragged woman, looking Miss Cushman full in the face.

"Who is your husband?"

"Conrad Clark," replied the woman, "the father of this child," pointing to a half starved, thin little child in her arms.

Miss Cushman started as if she had been shot.

She went through her part that night—acted it splendidly, brought down the house; then, after the performance, she sent for Clark to come to her dressing room. Clark knocked and then opened the door. She brought forward to him his wife and baby, who had been waiting in the dressing room to receive him.

Such a reception! Charlotte Cushman never looked or acted so grandly on the stage in all her life as she did that night.

Of course the wife is the chancellor of the exchequer in this strange community. As she earns the money she naturally feels competent to spend it to the best advantage.

Indeed, the husband, known among the fishwives as "my man," is not considered sufficiently elevated to buy his own Sunday clothes.

256 COUNTIES IN STATE OF GEORGIA
THAT IS, UNLESS SOME CANDIDATE IS MISTAKEN

Atlanta, Dec. 4.—In the home stretch are the three candidates entered in the present gubernatorial race in Georgia. They have passed the last turn, and are "beating it" to the wire under spur and whip.

Thursday, Dec. 7, sees the end of the race, when the white democratic voters of Georgia will cast their ballots for their choice for governor to serve out the unexpired term that will remain from January 25, the day the new governor will be inaugurated.

That there will not be a runaway finish for any one of the three candidates is apparent to a close observer of the campaign.

It appears that the winner will poll a unit vote of not exceeding 150, and the third man will be close to the 100 mark. The race will be run in the small two-vote counties, as the three candidates are expected to about evenly divide the 32 large counties, six of which have six unit votes each and 26 four unit votes. The remaining 114 counties have 228 units. The candidate who can get 45 to 50 of these counties should win, and it looks certain that Pope Brown will round up at least 50 of them.

If the claims made for the three candidates should prove true it would require 110 more counties than there are in Georgia to go around. There are but 146 Georgia counties, while a total of 256 are claimed for the three camps. The Russell people top the list with a claim of 92 counties for their candidate. Pope Brown's manager claims 86 as sure for him. The Atlanta Constitution, Joe Brown's organ, claims he will get every one of 78 counties. But as there are only 146 counties somebody is going to be badly disappointed.

No really big speaking appointments have been scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, the last campaigning days. Nevertheless, there will be speakers heard in many parts of the state these last two days for each of them. Thursday the real work will be done by the county and precinct leaders in getting out the vote. The weather promises to play a big part in the vote that will be polled. If it is fair and not bitter cold there will probably be 150,000 ballots cast. If it is wet and cold the number will probably fall below 125,000. In the August primary of 1910 there were approximately 200,000 ballots cast, but the registration is less now than then, this being a special election.

"Best on Earth."
This is the verdict of R. J. Howell, Tracy, O., who bought Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for his wife. "Her case was the worst I have ever seen, and looked like a case of consumption. Her lungs were sore and she coughed almost incessantly and her voice was hoarse and weak. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound brought relief at once and less than three bottles effected a complete cure." Sold by Lively's Drug Store.

YOUNG WHITE MAN ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF BURGLARY

HENRY BARNES, OF PULASKI, MUST STAND TRIAL IN COURT.

Henry Barnes, a young white man of Pulaski, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Riggs last Thursday and is now held under bond to answer to a charge of burglary.

The particular act on which the arrest was based was the alleged entry of the store of Mr. Ben Ellis at Pulaski, and the taking of a quantity of goods therefrom. This is said to have been done two months or more ago, about which time it is said a number of other business places were entered by unknown parties.

The evidence against Barnes is said to consist of a quantity of the goods from Ellis's store being found in his possession.

After the occurrence of the several thefts a detective was employed to investigate the crimes. A young man named Hendrix was found to be wearing a pair of shoes recognized as having come from Ellis's stock. Asked about the matter, he had bought them from Barnes. Barnes, it is said, claimed to have bought them from a firm in Statesboro, which was denied by the Statesboro firm, which did not carry in stock that particular brand of shoes. A number of pairs of the same shoes were later found in Barnes's trunk.

A preliminary hearing was set for last Saturday at this place, but was waived by the defendant, who gave bond to the superior court.

County School Affairs
Still "Up in the Air."

The county board of education met last Saturday as was expected, but did not pass upon the eligibility of Prof. B. R. Oliff for county school superintendent, according to expectation; and the very good reason was Prof. Oliff had secured from Judge Rawlings an injunction restraining the board from passing upon his eligibility. Therefore the uncertainty of the situation seems to increase.

At a meeting of the board several weeks ago there were four prospective candidates presented for qualification before the board. Three of these, J. E. Brannen, J. H. St. Clair and C. A. Warnock, were passed as eligible, while Prof. B. R. Oliff was refused. He took an appeal to the state board, where a hearing was given him on Saturday, Nov. 25th. The entire county board from Bulloch was present, as was Prof. Oliff with his attorneys and a number of his friends. The county board is said to have made the showing that Prof. Oliff had been turned down by it upon evidence against his moral character.

Objection was made that Prof. Oliff had not had opportunity to defend himself against the charges; whereupon the matter was again referred to the county board for a hearing. This was to have been held last Saturday, and would have been except for the injunction granted by Judge Rawlings restraining the board from passing upon the case.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

256 COUNTIES IN STATE OF GEORGIA
THAT IS, UNLESS SOME CANDIDATE IS MISTAKEN

Atlanta, Dec. 4.—In the home stretch are the three candidates entered in the present gubernatorial race in Georgia. They have passed the last turn, and are "beating it" to the wire under spur and whip.

Thursday, Dec. 7, sees the end of the race, when the white democratic voters of Georgia will cast their ballots for their choice for governor to serve out the unexpired term that will remain from January 25, the day the new governor will be inaugurated.

That there will not be a runaway finish for any one of the three candidates is apparent to a close observer of the campaign.

It appears that the winner will poll a unit vote of not exceeding 150, and the third man will be close to the 100 mark. The race will be run in the small two-vote counties, as the three candidates are expected to about evenly divide the 32 large counties, six of which have six unit votes each and 26 four unit votes. The remaining 114 counties have 228 units. The candidate who can get 45 to 50 of these counties should win, and it looks certain that Pope Brown will round up at least 50 of them.

If the claims made for the three candidates should prove true it would require 110 more counties than there are in Georgia to go around. There are but 146 Georgia counties, while a total of 256 are claimed for the three camps. The Russell people top the list with a claim of 92 counties for their candidate. Pope Brown's manager claims 86 as sure for him. The Atlanta Constitution, Joe Brown's organ, claims he will get every one of 78 counties. But as there are only 146 counties somebody is going to be badly disappointed.

No really big speaking appointments have been scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, the last campaigning days. Nevertheless, there will be speakers heard in many parts of the state these last two days for each of them. Thursday the real work will be done by the county and precinct leaders in getting out the vote. The weather promises to play a big part in the vote that will be polled. If it is fair and not bitter cold there will probably be 150,000 ballots cast. If it is wet and cold the number will probably fall below 125,000. In the August primary of 1910 there were approximately 200,000 ballots cast, but the registration is less now than then, this being a special election.

City Election Saturday
Was Very Quiet Affair

Sixty-three votes were polled in the city election here Saturday, out of a registration of approximately 300. Many did not remember that Saturday was election day, and others who did remember did not think it was worth while to go to the polls.

The old administration was re-elected and every member received the full vote. To the previous understanding that there would be no opposition, is due the slight interest manifested in the election. Some three weeks previous there was quite a little flurry apparent on the surface, when it seemed probable that there might be a contest for mayor. This, however, was speedily settled when Mayor McDougald yielded to the appeal of friends (among them being those who were discussed as being probable candidates) and consented to stand for a second term. Since that date quiet has reigned.

So absolute has been that quiet in fact, that at a citizens meeting called for last Wednesday evening to hear reports from the retiring administration, only twenty-three voters were present. Among the absentees were the three members of the executive committee who had called the meeting.

Former Mayor Blitch was made chairman of the citizens meeting, and Glenn Bland, secretary. Chairmen of the various committees submitted their reports, which were complimented by those present and resolutions passed endorsing the wisdom of the administration.

A resolution was unanimously adopted approving the policy of the city board of education in the administration of school affairs, and especially endorsing the sale of admission cards as a support for the public schools.

The city's financial statement showed a bonded indebtedness of $30,000, of which $5,000 is for schools and $25,000 for water and lights.

Brown Speakers Failed to Show Up Here Saturday

There was a disappointed crowd in Statesboro last Saturday when Judge Parker and Col. Berner failed to arrive. Failure was also made in securing substitute speakers from the Pope Brown headquarters, and in consequence there was no oratory dispensed here in behalf of Mr. Brown.

There was a good crowd in town far more than the usual Saturday gathering, and keen disappointment was felt by many who had been drawn by the announcement of the intended speaking. However, the failure was unavoidable, and seems to be only a repetition of the continued failures of both the other candidates to furnish speakers at many advertised appointments throughout the state.

As an explanation for the absence of Judge Parker, he was detained at his home in Waycross by the serious illness of a son with typhoid fever. Col. Berner is himself unwell, though it was expected that he would be able to meet the appointment until it was too late to send a substitute.

STOP SALE OF BEER, URGE METHODISTS
WOULD ALSO PROHIBIT THE SHIPPING OF LIQUOR

Bainbridge, Ga., Dec. 3.—The report of the temperance committee was the feature of today's session of the South Georgia conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

"The report as adopted is as follows: 'We are making progress in laws on temperance, but our people are not keeping pace with it in abstaining from liquors. The drinking of alcoholic liquors is an enemy to the body. The best doctors are against it. There are two errors on this subject: First, that the way to control the liquor traffic is to control it in the larger cities; next mistake, to say we can't control the saloonkeeper by law. In spite of the violation of the law in some places and in spite of the fact that some of our judges, on in particular, says it can't be enforced, we must persevere. 'Second, we favor the Tipples bill, putting near-beer out of the state. 'Third, we endorse the bill introduced in congress by Representative Roddenberry, stopping the shipping of liquor into dry states. 'We also condemn cigarette smoking.'"

Dr. A. M. Williams introduced a resolution calling upon congress to pass Mr. Roddenberry's bill to prohibit the use of the United States mails to advertise liquor. The paper produced quite a discussion and received loud applause. Before voting on this question an amendment was offered indorsing the Atlanta Georgian for refusing to accept whiskey advertisements and for indorsing prohibition.
